AWAKEN YOUR SOULPRINT

There is a difference between an organization and extraordinary organizations. The extra ordinary companies consists of higher consciousness that is present in the leadership. These extraordinary leaders not only maximize their own potential but also of their teams and their company.

Every individual has a unique Soulprint that defines their environment and the choices they make. The Vedic wisdom captures and decodes the process of awakening in its Vedas and Upanishads. However, what we need is to make that time tested wisdom more contemporary and easy to understand in our modern day environment.

In this workshop on Awakening we learn how to connect our daily activities to the spiritual energy force inside us. This extra force is the missing link that we are not taught in business schools.

To transform a company we need to transform its leadership. The program is designed to work with the CEOs, business heads, decision makers and top management to awaken their Soulprint to not only answer their existential questions clearly but also take the company to greater height by achieving extraordinary performance.

The aim of this program is to introduce a true seeker to his or her inner energies to realize the limitless potential that is possible for the Soulprint. The Vedic wisdom postulates basic principles and concepts that forms the basis of this program.

A seeker might find himself or herself facing limitations and resistance in letting the energies flow in their life stopping them to excel. This workshop helps to breakdown personal paradigms and dogmas and guides the seeker to focus on what it's Soulprint truly seeks.
